

December 7, 2020 Daily Church Email

President Franklin Roosevelt called December 7, 1941 “a date which will live in infamy.” Today we count back 79 years to reflect on how the United States' entrance into World War II changed our nation, that generation, and the socio-economic and political dynamics of the world.

It makes me consider in today's times of the Pandemic how we cannot see the full effect it may have in us, around us, and beyond us.

May God grace us with the endurance, fortitude, and compassion that the Greatest Generation grew into after their early life experiences during the Great Depression and World War II.

Blessings to you in Christ,
Pastor Julie
