

July 6, 2020 Daily Church Email

A friend of mine named Mildred celebrated her one-hundredth birthday yesterday through a party. All afternoon her family and friends gathered on a predetermined schedule by video phone calls and video conferences. At my appointed two o'clock time, I was able to attend even though she lives in Indiana.

What joy to see her friendly face from years gone by and be able to thank her for her impact on my life.

And then she told me that she had played a piano solo at church that morning. Why not? A gift to God on your own birthday celebration day!

So, I watched it on the church's webpage and immediately was transported back to 1998 when my first calling as an Associate Pastor was in that very sanctuary with her by my side.

I thank God for Mildred.

Today, who can you thank God for?

May that be a blessing shared.

In Christ,
Pastor Julie
